Press Comment on the Newly Produced Mulligan Letter.

BLAINE'S TRIUMPHANT JOURNEY TO BOSTON

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—[Special.] The ... the Times ... Blaine said he could ... Why ... failed to find it is now apparent. It was still in the possession of Mulligan and Fisher. It never passed into Blaine's hands. He told the truth when he assured the house that his exhibit covered every scrap and scrimption that came from Mulligan. We are interested to see whether the newspapers which have urged against Blaine this special charge of dishonesty will retract and apologize. They owe him and themselves a frank and manly admission of error.

THE TIMES

takes position on the subject: "The letter of the ... of October is given. The Times has declined to believe that Blaine told the truth when he said that the letter was not in the package. It has before taken pains to get at the truth from more trustworthy sources. It learns that James Mulligan privately declared that the letter of October 24 was in his package, taken from him at the Riggs house by Blaine, and that the letter now printed is from a letter press copy. As between a man of unimpeached veracity like Mulligan and a proved falsifier like Blaine the word of the former must stand."

The following is also from the Times: ... the correspondence of Blaine and Fisher they will not allow Blaine to appear before them to ... without giving him unmistakable evidence that they despise a man who is untruthful and dishonest.

MULLIGAN LETTER IN THE ...

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—[Special.] It has been learned that an elaborate explanation of Blaine's transactions with Warren Fisher is to be prepared for the public within a few days. To this end eminent legal talent has been employed to prepare a clever and succinct presentation of Blaine's side of the case. Ex-Senator McDonald of Arkansas is contributing to the defense by giving facts within his knowledge which it is said will put a different ... upon the matter from Warren Fisher's ...

The World to-day has a triple sheet rendered necessary by the multitude of alleged extracts from Blaine's letter printed promiscuously over all ... in the paper, advertising and news columns.

FROM THE BOSTON JOURNAL

BOSTON, Sept. 17.—[Special.]—The Journal editorial double leaded says: Since Fisher publishes his own personal letters why does he not publish one written by him to Blaine soliciting a foreign appointment? Information that such a letter is in existence does not come from Blaine, but that such a letter exists there can be no question. When published it will give a problem the solution of which will be of great interest to the public. Will Fisher favor us with a copy of this letter?"

The Journal also prints a statement from Pan ... well known lawyer here detailing a conversation with Mulligan soon after the Mulligan letters appeared in which the latter declared he did not consider Blaine corrupt, nor did he even sell his vote in a way to favor legislation that did not commend itself on its merits.

Well then I said to Mr. Mulligan, what does all this amount to? Mulligan replied: It just amounts to this—That Blaine is a very able man; that while he was in congress he saw measures going through in which he took and made some money for himself, but as for saying that he was ever bribed or corrupted I would not say that. He improved his opportunity to use the knowledge he got to make good investments and was fortunate in them. That is about all I would say."

S. B. Callendar of this city writes also ... above statement.

PHILADELPHIA TIMES

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 17.—[Special.] The Times ... Blaine's hitherto silent about the letters ... The new batch of Mulligan letters ... of Blaine's public record. BLAINE'S MOVEMENTS

The Journey from Maine to Massachusetts One Grand Ovation.

BOSTON, Sept. 17.—At 8:30 Blaine drove to the ... at Augusta accompanied by Private Secretary Sherman, where upon the arrival of the train about ... Manley and Senator Hale joined the party. There was no demonstration on Blaine's departure. At Portland Congressman Reed entered the Pullman car and engaged Blaine in conversation until the train started. Owing to a delay in the arrival of Blaine's train at Portland the regular train had departed and his train ran through as an extra. This perhaps accounts for the small crowds at stations along the road. At Portsmouth a crowd gathered about the car and called for Blaine and followed him to the dining saloon where he took luncheon. No remarks or introduction were made here. At Newburyport fully 10,000 persons gathered but no stop was made and a faint shout of welcome was all that could be heard. At Ipswich and Salem throngs assembled to greet Blaine and give him a hearty welcome. Cries arose for a speech but the cheering had lasted so long that there was time only for a cordial reception and then the cars passed out of the depot.

Several of Lynn's leading citizens boarded the train at Salem and accompanied Blaine to Boston. Secretary Whitcomb of the Boston ward and city committees met Blaine and escorted him to the city. The scene at Lynn was a repetition of that at Salem. By the time the train arrived fully 50,000 persons were in the vicinity of the depot. Again Blaine was called for and his appearance was the signal for tumultuous cheers. Blaine thanked the people warmly for the greeting. As the train left the station a salute from the battery was fired, while a crowd followed the train the whole length of the station cheering and waving hats.

At Somerville Blaine opened a window and from the coach shook hands with those within reach.

IN BOSTON

About 10:30 the train entered the eastern depot of this city and Blaine was met by Henry Cabot Lodge, Henry Parkman, chairman of the ward and city committees, Col. Allen H. Whipple of the ... Grazier the governor's private secretary, Congressmen Crapo and Southworth and many ... state central committee.

Entering barouches the party proceeded to the ... house escorted by a lodge of cadets of Lynn ... and the independent battalion ... The streets along the route were lined with people who heartily cheered the distinguished visitor. Bowdoin ... The Revere house was packed with people awaiting the arrival, while the front of the ... house was decorated with flags and bunting.

As the procession came to the square the crowd ... cheers ... display of fireworks ... to increase the enthusiasm. Quickly alighting the party entered the hotel.

In a few moments Blaine and Parkman appeared upon the balcony and after the latter had succeeded in quieting the crowd he introduced Blaine, who said:

"I thank you, gentlemen, for this cordial Boston welcome. [Applause.] I do not come to your city as a stranger and I feel among old friends and true friends. [Cheers.] I have known your city intimately for thirty years. I have watched its progress with deep personal interest, and whatever it fell within my power I have in a humble way contributed [to its success]."

At this point THE OREGONIAN was compelled to go to press.]

BUTLER IN NEW YORK

He Addresses a Vast Concourse of People at County Fair Grounds.

LOWVILLE, N. Y., Sept. 17.—An actual count of ... show that 16,000 people were on the Lewis county fair grounds this afternoon when General Butler spoke, and this in spite of the attractions of other fairs in neighboring counties. General Butler passed the day at the house of Senator O'Donnell, and received and shook hands with a great number of people. At 1 o'clock he was escorted by a procession of citizens headed by a brass band and escorted through the streets of the town to the fair grounds. Here there was unprecedented enthusiasm. The grand stand was packed and as many fortunate people as could get within hearing ... of the speaker's stand had assumed favorable positions long before the arrival of the procession.

General Butler was received with applause and cheers. He was introduced by Hon. John O'Donnell, who referred to him as a former democrat ... of a republican state, the foremost statesman of his time and a presidential candidate.

The general's ... was ... He had been ... to the farmers in the language of the ... to speak upon whatever subject ... and a political speech was ... listened to with ...

"... that the mass of the people who ... all the parties are honest ... There are honest men in all parties ... I honestly ... [in one] party than in another ... that their rascals got found out."

Gen. Butler then talked of the republican party and the democratic party and referred to his own action in the recent democratic convention in Chicago ... laboring men ...

IN CONCLUSION

General Butler noted a criticism of the New York World and concluded by saying: I received this great legacy of rights of the people from my father and my grandfather. They taught me the platform upon which I must ever stand, under whatever political denomination I might find myself—equality of power, equality of burdens, equality of rights and equality of privileges of all men ... I stood for that from youth up and I want to leave this as a blessed heritage to my children and my children's children forever.

At the conclusion of the speech Senator O'Donnell led the crowd in three cheers for General Butler. General Butler thought he could do better than that and called for three cheers for the people's party. They were given with a will.

HENDRICKS'S LITTLE SPEECH

He Addresses the People of Peoria, Repeating His Stereotyped Talk.

PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 17.—Hendricks arrived here to-day, having been detained several hours by an accident near Farmer City. This afternoon he made a brief address at the fair grounds and this evening spoke at the wigwam. There was a street parade participated in by 800 men. He drinks ... introduced, was greeted with applause. He commenced by speaking of the date chosen and ... it happened to be the ... anniversary of the adoption of the constitution of the United States. He thought they were appropriately celebrating the occasion. He spoke of this glorious nation and the right and power of congress to levy and collect taxes for the administration of the government. They should levy only so much as was required to fight ... affairs. He then asserted there should be a change in the administration because the republicans had it for twenty-five years, and that was long enough. He next took up the subject of surplus in the treasury. East Oregonian: Andrew Sullivan arrived here from Portland Tuesday morning having in charge three prisoners of whom he had been in search. The prisoners were Wm. H. Fields, Jim Wilson and Charles Johnson alias Armstrong. Sullivan, who had an interest in having them brought to justice and who had been deputed to make the arrest, found his men in the vicinity of Brownsville, in Linn county. They were arrested on a warrant from Judge Logan's court charging them with larceny of horses. They left here about a month ago having in charge, it is alleged, about forty or fifty head of stolen horses which they were disposing of as best they could in Linn county. Fields is a nephew of Hugh Fields, a wealthy rancher and stock owner both in Linn and Umatilla counties. Billy has led a bad life for some time and is already under bonds on a charge of committing a similar crime last spring. Wilson was for awhile a gambler here in town. The prisoners were lodged in jail and will probably have their examination in a day or two. The horses they had taken belonged to various parties, one of the losers being Mr. Andy Sullivan.

A GOOD COMPARISON.

The Rev. William Boulatt, a well-known Methodist clergyman, residing at Naples, draws the following amusing, but apt comparison between Dr. C. McLane's Vermifuge, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., and a ferret.

"A ferret when placed at the entrance of a rat hole, enters the aperture, travels along the passage, seizes upon the rat, exterminates his existence and draws the animal's defunct carcass to the light. And in like manner have I found Dr. C. McLane's Vermifuge to operate upon worms, those dreadful and dangerous tormentors of children. This remedy, like the ferret, enters the aperture of the mouth, travels down the gullet, hunts round the stomach and lays hold of the worms, shakes the life out of the reptiles, sweeps clean their den and carries their carcasses clear out of the system. This, at least, has been the effect of the Vermifuge upon my children."

INCENDIARISM

At the late meeting of the Fire Underwriters association in Chicago Mr E Lawrence of California read a paper on incendiarism which was full of instructive and interesting figures "According to statisticians, said he one third of all our fires is the work of incendiaries, they who willfully set buildings or other combustible property on fire, and presumably two fifths of our entire fire waste is the fruit of crime. The number of fires of incendiary origin exceed those from the combined causes of accidents carelessness, defective construction in all its bearings, including all defects of flues, furnaces, heating and lighting apparatus friction in machinery, gasoline and coal oil stoves, ignition, spontaneous combustion, mischievous children, lightning, and the much-abused tramp. Geographically considered incendiarism is an enigma. For instance the entire west, embracing Iowa Kansas, Nebraska Dakota, Montana, Wyoming Utah Colorado Arizona, Nevada, Idaho, Oregon California Washington and Indian territories with an aggregate fire waste of $12,358,251, had no more incendiary fires than the state of Georgia with a loss record of $2,838 0?3 The New England states, with a loss record of $1 786, 300 less than that of the state of New York had 34 per cent more incendiary fires For incendiarism, Indiana stands pre eminently at the head of the list of states. With a fire record of $2,371,845, she has more incendiary fires than the four states of Pennsylvania Iowa Kansas and California with their loss record of $16 842 868 "

As a relief from incendiarism Mr Lawrence suggested the following plan of what he called a "model contract" 1. The insured to carry insurance to 75 per cent of the values at risk or become co-insurer to the extent of the deficiency, thus insuring equity as to rate of premium. 2 All partial losses of say less than 50 per cent of the values at risk and insured to be paid in full, thus encouraging safeguards against occurrence of fire and introduction of appliances for extinguishment of incipient ones 3 All losses that exceed say 50 per cent of the value at risk and insured to be subject to adjustment under the three-quarters rule", thus virtually stamping out incendiarism

By the "three-quarters rule" is meant that the amount of insurance should be limited to three-fourths the value of the property insured This was characterized by one of the speakers in the discussion which followed the reading of the paper, as un-American and sure to be distasteful to insurers In his remark there is a suggestion of one of the most common temptations to incendiarism The agents of the companies, in order to make insurance "tasteful," and so extend their business are too much inclined to over-insure property They take the man's word for it, and fail to examine his property to see whether it is worth the amount of the insurance he buys. No man would burn up his property if it was not insured for more than he could realize on it in any other way

THE CHOLERA

The cholera is even more destructive at Naples than it was at Toulon and Marseilles two months ago, and the public authorities seem to be appalled and virtually impotent in the face of its terrible ravages Many of the sick are left uncared for and the bodies of the dead are left to add to the horrors of the plague The people also are behaving in the most shocking manner The physicians who do their utmost to save the poor and miserable people from a terrible death are nearly killed for their pains The dispensers of unwholesome drinks rebel against the police who interfere with the dangerous traffic. An equally pitiful spectacle is presented by the religious mummeries which disgrace civilization and mock the real needs of the superstitious The consolations of religion are a most beneficent resource, alike in prosperity and in the midst of affliction and even such travesties of this sacred refuge as the tawdry processional exhibitions of the lower class of Italian communities ought not to be interfered with in a time of overwhelming wretchedness and excitement since they give some comfort to the deluded and ignorant populace. But the absurd report of the Virgin Mary descending upon an altar in a Neapolitan church, and such offenses against the real spirit and purpose of the church which it is the duty of Roman Catholic priests to represent, and to reverence by the avoidance of these things, are having a most disastrous effect on the easily deceived people They take a wholly impractical and silly view of the cholera, and believe that a promiscuous crowd of people marching through a stricken community, with the bedizened image of some good and canonized man or woman carried aloft is of use to head off the disease, and that the zeal, earnest and thoroughly practical endeavors of learned medical men are of no effect. To whatever length the habits of thought and life of the lower classes may be permitted to have sway, neither semi-religious hallucinations nor dogged resistance to comfortable cleanliness should be permitted to embarrass wise and genuine efforts to stop suffering. This visitation is a fearful penalty for the neglect of sanitary precautions and the filthy condition as well as the stolid ignorance in which many of inhabitants of the city are permitted to live, but its exaction is inexorable It seems likely that the epidemic will have to run its course practically unchecked Only severe cold can check it and it may visit such countries as France and England in mid winter, as it has before. Its course seems to be in accordance with some law of which we have not yet obtained the secret, and it is to be feared that its ravages have only begun.

A Nebraska girl has lately destroyed another of the illusions concerning California which have been prevalent in the eastern states She went there, she acknowledges, with an idea obtained from newspapers that there was a great preponderance of men over women and that a girl could not be in the country longer than twenty four hours without receiving an offer of marriage from some rich bachelor In fact that every pretty girl held levees in which the suitors took turns like the customers of a barber's shop. "I want to expose a fraud" she writes after a stay of six months There are more men here than women but in my judgment they have run away from marital bonds elsewhere, and have come out here for a quiet, peaceful time, away from the pestiferous sex that has caused their woes. A woman is of less consequence here than anywhere else in the world There is mighty little marrying and giving in marriage here. The men don't seem to be anxious about it and the girls so well understand things that they won't encourage a man until they know all about his former life and make sure that he hasn't a surplus wife or two in the east"

In a recent English school case the court of queen's bench, two justices sitting, pronounced the law as follows, it being presumed that the school was one where compulsory attendance was the rule "The matter of education is a statutory interference with the liberty of the subject, and the statute must be construed in the ordinary way" that is strictly The schoolmaster had no right to direct the child to learn lessons at home; the scholar was punished for disobedience of an order the teacher had no right to make. The detention of the scholar after school, in such case, was an assault on the part of the teacher. The careful reader will discern in this language of the court the expression of certain legal principles that may become of consideration in this country. While [illegible]

WOMEN PHYSICIANS.

It is but twenty years, says the Pall Mall Gazette since a university in the United Kingdom first opened its doors to female medical students The applicant who first came from one woman and not before four others joined her did Edinburgh half grudgingly enroll them on its lists The women did well too well for the male students, and in some cases for medical men and after four years of success so far as their work was concerned and failure with regard to the good will of male students and professors women were once more shut out But in spite of this opposition and a similar opposition in this country medical women are steadily pushing their way to favor In one sense however this may be called progress backward, for the great Italian university of Bologna which, as early as 1200, had 10 000 students, and where first were taught anatomy galvanism and the circulation of the blood has had a long line of female professors who are not deemed inferior to their male coadjutors One, Movella d Andria was so beautiful that she lectured behind a curtain, lest if her charms were seen the students would let their young eyes wander over her and quite forget their jurisprudence Another Madonna Manzolina, professor of anatomy Matilda Tromboni learned in languages Laura Bassi, professor of mathematics and most distinguished of all, Marie Egnesi, who asked permission of the pope to fill her father's chair made vacant by his illness She showed such talent for mathematics that Colson the Lucasian professor of mathematics at Cambridge translated her great work, "Instituzioni Analitiche" and it is now used by the students of that university She was beautiful and modest and pleasing but her severe studies overwhelmed her delicate frame and in 1799 she hid herself in the convent of Blue Nuns at Bologna where she lived for several years a devotee and an invalid

The demand for women doctors by women is becoming greater as the first shock of the idea of women physicians is wearing off But they are less suitable for country districts than for a practice in larger towns, first because women will always more or less be especially for women's and children's diseases and to better as consulting physicians than in some branches of the work, such as for instance surgery secondly, with all good will and physical strength there would not be many women who could stand the life of a country physician who is often called out for long rides in the middle of the night and has to brave the vicissitudes of every season

At the late meeting in Montreal of the British association for the advancement of science Mr J C Stewart of Ottawa, chief of the Canadian postoffice department, read a very complete paper reviewing and describing the savings bank feature of the dominion postal service The savings banks date from the first session of the dominion parliament after the union of the provinces and went into operation April 1868 It applies only to the larger provinces of Ontario and Quebec the maritime provinces having a different system of government savings banks under the immediate control of the finance department and the newer provinces of the far northwest being not in condition to require savings banks in connection with their postal service The act fixes the limit of individual deposits at $1000 The apprehension that the regular chartered banks would suffer from the rivalry of the postal institutions has proved ill founded the patrons coming generally from classes who would not have made regular banks their depositaries. Only one eighth of the bank deposits are in the hands of the postal department The increase of the depositors which now number 66 682 with an average deposit of $196 63 has been unexpectedly large since 1880 The postal banks pay 4 per cent interest

The laws taxing corporations recently enacted in three states are bringing about satisfactory results In Vermont such a law was enacted two years ago and it has worked admirably In New Jersey the legislature last winter passed a law taxing corporations other than railroads (which were already taxed) and the first payment under it has just been made The state has about 2000 corporations taxed under the act and the annual income from this source a $165,000—the tax being very much lower than in Vermont This sum, with the amount derived from the taxation of the railroads not only pays all the state expenses but leaves a handsome surplus in the treasury No direct tax, of course is now levied on the people for state purposes

In New York, the taxation of corporations was begun three years ago At present the tax is one-half of one per cent of the gross earnings, and the state received last year the very handsome sum of $3 000 000 This year the corporations report a very heavy falling off in their earnings and the state's receipts will be correspondingly diminished Still as long as the gross earnings of a single corporation the New York Central railroad—amount to $30 000 000 the state is sure of a large income

The effect of temperament as modifying temperature has been an interesting study in Boston during the late hot weather and the Advertiser observes that there are people whose collars refuse to wilt even with the mercury at 90 degrees who go about like so many social icebergs in frigid indifference to the intense heat which afflicts the average human being These people are not always thin though they are apt to lack superfluous flesh and their cool composure seems to be due to both moral and physiological causes They are too self contained to allow heat to disturb their equanimity and they are apparently proof against perspiration That race has much to do with insensibility to heat it is obvious from the example of the Chinamen who may be seen working in their steaming laundries in apparent indifference to the hot weather while colored people who look as if they were melting can endure a degree of heat which would prostrate white persons

It will do no harm if the campaign fund is smaller than usual this year The increasing use of money in elections is one of the most alarming signs of the times. Each party incurs certain legitimate expenses in printing and distributing documents, procuring speakers, hiring halls, and things of that sort But it is well understood that a large part of the money is used for purchasing the venal vote The case of Indiana in 1880 is the most notorious and shameful example perhaps in the history of the country, and needs but to be named to emphasize the desirability of checking the bribery and corruption which run riot at the polls by cutting off the fund which makes bribery possible.

The Tacoma Ledger says that the reduction of the freight rate on wheat in eastern Washington territory was made to save the farmers from O R and N extortion Perhaps the Ledger thinks [illegible] The reduction was made to enable farmers to realize on their crops [illegible] payments for land purchased from the Northern Pacific Company It is true that the company cannot afford to haul wheat 1800 miles for eight dollars per ton and it would not do it if there was much to haul But it is better to help the farmers to dispose of their wheat in this way rather than to have them default their annual payments for land

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Northern Pacific railroad company will be held in New York to day The annual statement will show a surplus of about $1,000,000 over fixed charges, not including, however, the interest on Oregon and Transcontinental bonds, for which the Northern Pacific does not become [illegible]

CITY.

JUSTICES COURTS.—Yesterday one of the many uses of using the state's law and county's money in playing even on an enemy came up in Justice Stearns's court. It was a personal difficulty between A. Struckman, a clerk in Oshkin's shoe store, and John Walters over a woman. Several days ago each had the other arrested for assault and battery in Justice Greene's court and each was fined $5. This time Struckman charged Walters with defamation of character, but failed to prove it, and the defendant was discharged. Walters thereupon filed a complaint charging Struckman with the crime of threatening to kill. Struckman gave bonds in the sum of $400 to appear Saturday for preliminary examination. Here are four separate cases arising out of a personal difficulty in which the peace and dignity of the state of Oregon did not suffer very hard. However the pockets of the taxpayers suffer. In these four cases particularly because the fees of the district attorney, justices, constables and witnesses will not amount to $40. But when it is considered that such cases are almost of daily occurrence in the justices' courts in the city, that nearly all are inspired by motives of revenge—not from a desire to maintain peace—that a good share are brought from malice and do not reach a conviction, that nearly one-half of the cases which are sent up to the grand jury are returned not a true bill, thus entailing on the county a good share of the expense of the grand jury and in many cases the board of prisoners, that the justices' courts cost Multnomah county last year $11,000—an increase of 30 per cent over the previous year, that the burden is growing greater, and that no one besides the officers receives any benefit, it is no wonder there is a demand for reform. There are many who do not blame the justices because their fees are legal, just as the large fees and emoluments of the county clerk and sheriff are legal. The fault is with the law, and they take advantage of it. What pressure will be brought in the next legislature to amend the law so as to relieve the county of this unnecessary and growing burden.

A CAVALRY BRIGADE.—One of the features of the republican demonstration to be held here on the 24th inst. will be the cavalry regiment, a company of mounted men in uniform bearing torches. The first Blaine and Logan regiment of cavalry was organized on the 15th inst. and over 150 republicans have already joined its ranks. Uniforms have been ordered, and the company will participate in the rally. The regiment earnestly invite all persons who will join the procession of the 24th on horseback to come into the ranks. A meeting of the regiment will be held Saturday evening next at half past 7 o'clock at Slavich's hall, east side of First street, between Yamhill and Morrison, over the Louisville restaurant and all persons who will ride on horseback on the evening mentioned are requested to be present as drill instruction will be then given. A special invitation is extended to persons living in the country ... to join this company and to attend the meeting Saturday evening. It is especially desired ... the drill. After considerable argument the court ordered that counsel prepare for the trial of at least two cases to day and held the liquor men to strict fulfillment of their expressed willingness to test the question of fact and so waive jury trial. These cases set for trial upon stipulation.

EAST ... ATTENDANCE.—The total number of children who were enrolled last Monday the opening day of the public schools is 2882, an increase of nearly 200 over the opening day last year. At the end of the first week in last year there were enrolled 3[illegible]. Since Monday the attendance has increased daily and by to morrow afternoon the number enrolled will not be much short of 3000, perhaps 3100. There is no better evidence of growth of population than in the attendance at schools and Portland ought to be well satisfied with this showing.

LATER LOST.—The grand jury yesterday returned not a true bill in two cases of larceny against a Chinaman yclept Ah Tom. This gentleman figured conspicuously in the papers about three months ago in connection with wholesale chicken stealing on the east side and the reason the grand jury did not indict him ... punishment ...

... SETTLED.—Mr J. A. Woods of New York director of the U. S. Electric Light Company has straightened all the financial snarls into which Cole, the unworthy agent, got the company, and the differences between the New York company and the local organization have been amicably settled so that the enterprise will go ahead without interruption. A competent electrician leaves New York to-night for Portland to adjust the apparatus and everything is expected to be in operation in October.

BUSINESS GROWING WESTWARD.—Work of excavation for a row of frame stores on the southeast corner of Seventh and Washington streets has been commenced. The owner is Charles McGinn. With the new Casino and its row of stores one block farther out the street it looks as if the star of business was slowly taking its way westward as well as southward.

FAST SAILER.—A private letter has been received at Astoria from Captain Rogers of the Tillie E. Starbuck from Liverpool, in which he says that he had a splendid run on his outward voyage, in one instance walking away from the South America, a noted flyer. He thinks that all his vessel needs is a favorable opportunity to enroll her among the list of fast sailers.

TAYLOR STREET M. E. NEW MINISTER.—Rev George W. Chandler of Buffalo, the newly appointed minister for Taylor Street M. E. church, will leave home on Monday, the 22d instant, for Portland. It is not likely that he will reach here in time for ...

EARNED A VACATION.—Having received leave of absence from the council, Mr. R. B. Curry, city auditor and clerk, starts this morning for the east to be gone about six weeks. He has merited the vacation during his connection with the city government as deputy and afterward as auditor. Mr. Curry has been industrious, faithful and accommodating, and no one knows this better than the councilmen who daily require his services.

SCHOOL REPORT.—The eleventh annual report of the Portland schools (Professor Crawford, superintendent) has been received at this office. In addition to the directors and the clerk's report to the taxpayers it contains many interesting statistics of the work for the year, a list of the high school graduates and of the teachers.

BARRETT TO-NIGHT.

This evening Lawrence Barrett and his entire excellent company will arrive here on the steamer from San Francisco and appear at New Market theater. For the opening of this season of the legitimate the great tragedy of Yorick's Love has very properly been selected. When Mr. Barrett visited Portland several years ago this tragedy was played for the first time in this city. The play was then known as "The New Play." Several alterations have been made by Mr. Barrett since its presentation then. The play has been trimmed ... and ... ably made more ... scenes omitted or materially altered, and several new and very effective scenes ... at Mr. Barrett's very perfect ... Yorick's Love has received the highest possible degree of dramatic and histrionic finish. Critics of the press and public generally are unanimous in the verdict that it is one of Mr. Barrett's most tragic and powerful impersonations and is well worthy of a place among the great historical efforts of the present stage. Mr. Barrett made his first appearance in the great English metropolis in this tragedy when it received the best ... ovation and achieved one of his proudest triumphs. Throughout all the large cities of this country he has repeatedly appeared in Yorick's Love with ... almost phenomenal ... of ...

Yorick's Love is a remarkably clever adaptation from the Spanish by W. D. Howells, the scholarly editor of the Atlantic Monthly. The time of the play is in the days of Shakespeare. The plot is a very strong but simple one. Yorick the comedian of the Globe theater is married to Mistress Alice, the leading lady of the same playhouse who is a very beautiful woman and much his junior. His foster son Edmund, also an actor who owes everything to him, to Yorick falls in love with Alice, who returns the affection. Walton, the leading actor of the Globe, discovers their love and being jealous of Yorick's professional merit, concludes to acquaint him with the state of affairs. Master Heywood, the manager of the theater, also has noticed that the two have fallen in love and endeavors to keep the knowledge from Yorick. Master Woodford has written a play in which the chief characters are a loving husband, a faithless wife and an ungrateful ward. These characters are taken by Yorick, Mistress Alice and Master Edmund and gradually the truth is unfolded until the end of the play. The last act is on the stage of the Globe theater and during the scene Walton hands Yorick a letter written by Edmund to Alice. Yorick becomes infuriate and in the fencing scene actually kills Edmund.

This piece will be presented this evening with a strong cast (Mr. Barrett's company numbering twenty three persons) with every careful consideration of scenic and mechanical effect and with costumes historically correct.

SILVER THREADS AMONG THE CLOUDS.

The prospective task of economizing has no doubt disheartened a number of our fashion loving sisters. The following is apt to revive their drooping spirits: they may safely indulge in the luxury of a new bonnet this fall as they can purchase this fashionable article for just half the amount it cost last year and direct from Paris at that. No prudent lady likes to commit her self but involuntarily such expressions as "That is very—reasonable. Is that all? Did I understand right? etc. dropped from the lips of the fair ones as they thronged around the beautiful fall display of millinery now exhibited by P. Selling on Third street and inquired the prices. Mr. Selling while in France some weeks ago has formed connections with the leading millinery manufacturers of that country. The effect of the magic word can be seen the susceptible hearts of the French can only be judged by a visit to the grand fall opening which is now in successful operation.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE CITY AUDITOR

PORTLAND, Or., Sept 1

To the Honorable the Mayor and Common Council of the city of Portland: GENTLEMEN—The arduous duties connected with the office of the auditor and clerk in which place I have been laboring for the past three years or more necessitates my taking a short respite from the duties of said office and therefore ask your kind indulgence in the matter of leave to be absent from the city some five or six weeks, during which time Mr. R. L. Durham as auditor and clerk will have supervision of my office and attend council meetings. I shall also provide for extra help in the office. Should you grant me a leave of absence I shall feel that my office will be left in competent hands.

Before leaving I desire to call your attention to the financial condition of the city as follows: ...

On motion of Sears, Auditor Curry was granted the leave of absence asked.

SHARP DROPS THE CHAIRMAN INVESTIGATION

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Portland: The undersigned, constituting the special committee on prosecution of the mayor of this city, has the honor to report:

Your committee was appointed upon the ... day of ... 1883, in accordance with the recommendation of a majority of the special committee on investigation of charges made against the mayor of the city.

It may be remembered that there was published in THE OREGONIAN newspaper a statement that the mayor had entered into a contract with certain persons in this city which disclosed, if true, the most revolting corruption upon his part and a personal degradation inconceivable to those who had not been honored by his intimacy and confidence.

A committee consisting of three members of the common council of whom the undersigned was chairman were appointed to investigate these charges and the result of their examination was to verify their accuracy in every particular.

It was scarcely to be supposed that any man was possessed of the shamelessness and effrontery necessary to enable him to remain in the position which he occupied, yet he has displayed no disposition to resign.

The committee on investigation recognizing these facts and feeling profoundly the blow at good government which the city sustained by the retention of the mayor in office and desirous of wiping away the stain upon our municipal honor, and believing that a remedy existed, recommended that proceedings in the nature of quo warranto be instituted to remove the mayor from office, for which purpose your committee was appointed. The committee however has encountered obstacles that it has thus far been unable to overcome and the desire to dis... ... an adequate remedy has caused an unavoid...

stituted an ordinance for that purpose could not be passed over the veto of the mayor. The committee laid the matter upon several occasions before Hon. John F. Caples, district attorney. Their unstably been occupied by the multiplicity of criminal cases which demanded his entire time and attention, rendering it impossible for him to furnish the assistance which the city desired.

Your committee has not presented this question to the present district attorney. Circumstances have since arisen which might give color to the assertion that the undersigned was actuated by a spirit of malevolence and a desire of gratifying personal feelings and though far removed from the truth, yet your committee believing this prosecution should be conducted with absolute impartiality and fairness and that it is impolitic that it should be in charge of one whose motives might be an object of suspicion would recommend that the present committee be discharged.

ALFRED F SEARS Jr
Special Com. on Prosecution of the Mayor.

On motion of Gerdes the report was adopted and the committee ordered discharged.

Sears tendered his resignation as member of the committee on commerce and on landing and wharves.

OBJECTION TO A FIRE BOAT

Sears introduced an ordinance to repeal ordinance 4,159 authorizing the employment of an efficient fire boat; read twice.

[The ordinance sought to be repealed was passed at the meeting of the council of September ... under a suspension of the rules and reads as follows:

The City of Portland does ordain as follows:

WHEREAS, The city is under contract to pay the Jefferson Street Ferry Company $20 per month for keeping in order the city fire pump which is of no value for extinguishing fires because the ferryboat is ... out of service as a ferryboat and is without steam when needed therefor.

The City of Portland does ordain as follows:

Section 1. The Committee on Fire and Water of this Common Council is hereby authorized and directed to enter into contract with the Jefferson street Ferry Company for keeping up steam at all times on the steam ferryboat Veto and for placing said boat at the exclusive service of the Portland Paid Fire Department, provided the price shall not exceed the sum of $120 per month, and that said sum shall be in lieu of all other compensation now paid said Ferry Company.

[It was approved the next day.]

Sears said that the ordinance authorizing the employment of this fire boat had been passed very hastily at the last meeting. He had been on the ordinance but had no idea that it would be passed. GERDES DEMANDS A GRAND JURY INVESTIGATION

The following resolution was offered by Gerdes and was passed without debate:

WHEREAS, The committee of the common council which was heretofore appointed to investigate the matter of charges of bribery and corruption in office against J. A. Chapman, mayor of this city, have made their report to this council, which report was referred to the committee of the whole and adopted by said council at its session held November 21, 1883, and entered upon the records of this common council. Therefore be it

Resolved, That the auditor and clerk be and he is hereby instructed to prepare a certified copy of said report and findings of said committee as adopted by the common council at said meeting and that the same be presented to the grand jury of Multnomah county, now in session.

Dated this 17th day of September 1884.

FILE ABOUT CALLING OF THE TENDER

Sears offered the following resolution:

Whereas, The common council of the city of Portland by two resolutions appointed and confirmed C. J. Plumley the position of master and captain of the dredge and

Whereas, The special committee on dredger of this council have attempted without authority to remove said Plumley and have thereby attempted to arrogate to themselves powers which they do not possess, and

Whereas, The action of said committee is in flagrant derogation of the rights of this body and subversive of its authority, this body being unwilling to admit it as ... its parts is greater or more potent than the whole; therefore be it

Resolved, That the said action of this committee in appointing another to the said position be and the same is hereby annulled, abrogated and set at naught, and the said Plumley is again confirmed in his position aforesaid at the salary of $75 per month.

This resolution drew forth considerable discussion. The old dredger committee considered they had been insulted by the new committee and the majority thought they had been unfairly treated by the council overruling their appointments.

The yeas and nays were called for and the resolution was adopted by a vote of five to three.

OTHER RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED

Authorizing the committee on health and police to enter into a contract with St. Vincent's hospital for keeping the indigent sick for one year.

Granting John Gibson an extension of thirty days to complete his contract on sewer in G street.

Appointing F. Opitz, B. I. Hare and H. O. Allen as censors to determine the cost of constructing a sewer in ... street, from its present terminus to North Seventeenth street.

Appointing the same persons as assessors in the matter of constructing a sewer in Market street from its present terminus to Eleventh street.

Giving notice of the proposed improvement of Tenth street from Yamhill to Stark.

Giving notice of intention to improve part of Jefferson street and North Front street from B to Sixteenth, by macadamizing or paving with Belgian blocks. Adjourned.

TUTT'S PILLS

TORPID BOWELS, DISORDERED LIVER, and MALARIA.

From these sources arise three fourths of the diseases of the human race. These symptoms indicate their existence: Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Sick Headache, fullness after eating, aversion to exertion of body or mind, Eructation of food, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, A feeling of having neglected some duty, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, highly colored Urine, CONSTIPATION, and demand the use of a remedy that acts directly on the Liver. As a Liver medicine TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the Kidneys and Skin is also prompt, removing all impurities through these three "scavengers of the system," producing appetite, sound digestion, regular stools, a clear skin and a vigorous body. THE STATE FAIR.

An Increased Attendance and Better Display upon the Third Day.

DESCRIPTION OF EXHIBITS IN THE PAVILION

Ney Ella Wins the Running Race—Altamont Walks Over the Course for Dexter's Forfeit—Fine Races To-Day.

The race at the state fair on Tuesday afternoon for the breeders' trotting stake for three-year-olds, mile heats best three in five, was won by Altamont, the Altamont filly of Major J. L. Hallett of Washington county, in the fourth heat. The third heat was incorrectly reported yesterday. As had been predicted from the very first, Oneca broke badly at half a dozen points around the track, and permitted Altamont to win easily in 2:44. The filly also won the fourth heat, as described yesterday, thus taking the race. Following is a

SUMMARY.

Altamont ... 1 2 1 1 1
Oneca ... 2 1 2 2 2
Time, 2:57, 2:50, 2:58, 2:52.

Jay Beach, the driver of Oneca, entered a protest after the race, and the paying of pools was stopped until the next morning. The ground for the protest was not very well defined and in the morning it was withdrawn and the pools paid.

A ONE SIDED FOOT RACE.

Just after the second heat of the trotting race a man came into the judge's stand and asked if they would consent to declare a foot race, sixty yards, scratch start, at the firing of a pistol, which would take place immediately, in front of the grand stand. This was the first that had been heard of any foot race, the matter being entirely an outside issue, but upon inquiry it was learned that all the preliminaries had been arranged, and that a stakeholder with $500 deposited in his hands, stood awaiting the running of the race and the decision of the judges. A moment more and two figures in tights came upon the track. One was Ryan, a noted sprint runner of California, and the other a colored youth unknown to almost everyone but his two or three backers who for some reason had confidence in his ability to the extent of $250. His name is Johnson and had been working in the harvest field near Salem all the summer. The entire race from beginning to end was but a minute wonder. The contestants and judges took their places, the starter fired his pistol, and on the instant Ryan darted away toward the goal. And the negro! Oh! where was he! The suggestions of the crowd were numerous, humorous, varied and vivacious. Dazed, paralyzed, scared to death, screwed to the ground, shot, bought off, poisoned, and mesmerized, were among the many explanations given of his apparently inexplicable conduct. At all events, like a rusty gun, he failed to go off. At the sound of the pistol he started like a new recruit on the skirmish line, but remained at the starting point as if his toes had sprouted and taken root. Ryan ran down the course, was awarded the race and handed the money. The crowd gathered excitedly around the negro, who remained where he was without having moved scarcely a muscle. He explained that he understood the starter would say "Ready" before he fired the pistol, and he would not stop over the line in front of him after Ryan started because he thought it could be no race if he did not start at all. When he heard that the other fellow had taken the money he looked very sick and tried to turn pale, but his complexion was against him. He did not get so mad he couldn't talk, and his hair straightened right out, but that was all. The whole thing happened in less time than it takes to tell it, and as the marshal cleared the track for the next trotting heat, it passed from the minds of most of the spectators.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The regular annual meeting of the members of the Oregon State Agricultural Society was held at the secretary's office at the grounds at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening and was largely attended. Some radical changes were made in the constitution and by-laws, which were amended so as to place the election of the secretary and treasurer with the board of managers, to be chosen by them at their annual meeting. They also revised the constitution limiting the selection of these officers to Salem, and leaving their selection as to residence at the discretion of the board of managers. A special committee was appointed to draft a bill to be presented to the next legislature seeking to create a state board of agriculture, which shall have control jointly with the society in the conduct of future annual fairs. Should this bill not pass the prospects for the continued existence of the society as at present are not promising.

An informal meeting was held at the close of the above at which nominations were made for president, vice president and board of managers, composed of a member from each county in the state.

THIRD DAY.

Over 500 people came up the valley on the southbound train yesterday morning, and even more alighted from the northbound train later in the day. Salem poured forth a good sized crowd, and the surrounding country furnished its quota of visitors in no limited number. For the first time during the present meeting the camping grounds outside the exhibition had some appearance of life. The sound of hammer and nails were heard here and there and several of the old shanties were made tenable for a few days and nights. The expectations of the managers for a goodly attendance on Wednesday were realized, and the failing fortunes of society were again checked. Should the increased attendance continue during the remainder of the week the fair will probably have made some money, although the outlook during the first two days was exceedingly gloomy. The exhibits continue fine and the exhibits in the various departments are now all in place. A marked decrease of interest in this fair, as compared with those of former years, is noticeable, especially when one remembers the vast crowds that used to assemble at this annual event when the society was in its infancy.

POULTRY.

There were but two exhibits in this department, and both are excellent ones. Mr. J. M. Garrison of Forest Grove has three coops of Plymouth Rocks, bred from the very best of eastern fowls, two of brown Leghorns, one of black breasted red games, and the first coop in the state of these new, handsome and valuable fowls, the Wyandottes. Mr. Garrison also exhibits a fine pair of the white crested black Polish and a pair of silver Sebright bantams which are owned by E. A. Turner of Seattle. Geo. D. Goodhue of Salem has the other exhibit, consisting of a coop of brown Leghorns, twelve specimens of incubator hatched fowls, a coop of white Leghorns, a trio of English black breasted game, and also one of his incubators, which is found in the pavilion.

CATTLE AND SHEEP.

In this department there are a large number of entries, and the whole forms the best exhibit of the fair. Jerseys, Alderneys, Short-horns, Holsteins, and polled Angus are all represented. In the sheep class are Spanish merinos, Cotswolds, Shropshires, and a large number of grades. There are no swine exhibits.

Allen Bros. of Silverton, exhibit a handsome yearling Jersey bull, "Elmwood Knight," and one three-year-old; also a short horn bull, Duke of Clemente. D. C. Stewart & Sons of Forest Grove, exhibit fine herd of Holsteins with "Sir Edwin Landseer," the finest of them all.

A. Saltmarsh exhibits a fine three-year-old short horn.

D. H. Looney of Jefferson, exhibits a herd of eight Jerseys with "Roscoe" at their head, who comes from the famous Pulhemus herd of San Jose.

N. Humphrey of Lane county, has a fine four-year-old Jersey bull "Anaito" from the Los Angeles herd.

Henry Mayer of Dallas, Polk county, exhibits a fine herd of nine short horns.

E. W. Carey, has brought down from his ranch in the Waldo hills and placed on exhibition a splendid bull of the Polled Angus stock, known as "Imported Constable," and duly registered in the herd book. He also shows a handsome Aberdeen cow and calf and a two-year-old Jersey bull.

G. W. Dimmick of Hubbard, Marion county, exhibits seven of his herd of Jerseys, including "Lady Grant," "Anna Looney" and "Juanita;" also eight shorthorns.

E. W. Carey exhibits probably the most complete folds of sheep, including five Spanish merinos, cotswolds and shropshires, all of pure stock. He also exhibits a dozen or more varieties of wool shorn from his sheep, in a glass case in the pavilion.

G. W. Hunt of Whiteaker, has a fine exhibit of shropshires and shropshire grades.

Matthew Small of Silverton exhibits a large quantity of fine Spanish merino wool, which is not entered for premiums, as he arrived at the fair too late.

There is also a large exhibit of merino sheep brought here from California, not for premiums, but for sale.

Dave Hurst of Salem exhibits a fine lot of sheep of mixed grades.

IN THE PAVILION.

The chief marshal of the pavilion is Mr. A. R. Miller, a courteous gentleman, who is ably assisted by Messrs. O. S. Hubbard, E. Hubbard and S. E. Howard in affording attention and information to visitors. The exhibit, as a whole, in this main hall, is by no means as large as that of last year, but everything shown, especially in the line of fruits, vegetables, grains and grasses, is of the finest, and the display is creditable in every way to the society and to those who have made it. Just at the left of the main entrance is a very creditable art exhibit by Miss Mary Bridges, teacher of painting and drawing in the Willamette university at Salem. The central figure of the exhibit is a large crayon portrait of a beautiful child, Annie, the 4-year-old daughter of F. B. Waite of Salem, who died last November. Upon the side walls are the photographic displays of Abell & Son and Partridge of Portland, each attracting visitors as soon as they enter. Just in front of the entrance is George Westerfield's exhibit of horse-shoes, emblems of good luck. One door on exhibition the Wheeler & Wilson, Davis and Howe sewing machines. E. J. DeJongh of Portland has a full display of optical instruments. H. S. Jory of Salem exhibits the "Oregon Fruit Drier," an invention of his own. Both the Salem flouring mills and the Capital mills show pyramids of their product in the center of the pavilion. Bread baked from the flour is shown side by side with the flour itself, and is a sample for housewives to pattern after. The pyramid of the Capital mills is thirty feet high and surmounted by the stars and stripes.

Clackamas county has a splendid exhibit collected by M. W. Randall and embracing nearly every product of the farm. Better wheat, oats and rye were never seen, and the display of grasses the best ever seen at the fair. This exhibit vies with that collected by D. D. Prettyman, although in some choice grains and grasses the latter rather excels. The individual exhibit of F. M. Rinearson of Clackamas county, consisting of over thirty varieties of apples, and peaches, quinces, pears and plums, is the biggest and best of its kind. In vegetables, too, Mr. Rinearson excels, having mammoth pumpkins, carrots and beets, and a seventy-five pound squash. He also exhibits, potatoes, turnips, cabbages, onions, and some fine corn in the ear. Fourteen varieties of corn are shown by J. L. Parrish, and about fifty different kinds of pears, plums and apples.

Dr. Chase of Salem exhibits a bee-hive with a patent honeycomb arrangement intended to save time for the busy little workers and give a generous return to the keeper by the increased amount of honey produced.

Probably the most complete display in any one line of goods is that made by Wm. Beck & Son of Portland, in sporting goods. He occupies a large space on the right hand side of the pavilion and has three large showcases of goods, besides stacks of guns along the wall.

A. B. Miller of Portland has two large cages of canaries and the little feathered songsters furnish the music in the pavilion.

Everything in the line of plumbing is shown by [illegible] Bros. of Salem, their nickel-plate [illegible] [illegible] attracting an [illegible]

[illegible] have contributed but little to the [illegible] year. Mrs. Dr. Warriner exhibits [illegible] up in jars and having a [illegible] make one's mouth [illegible] varieties of fruit [illegible] of fruit wines [illegible] [illegible] Conditt of Jefferson has a fine lot of canned fruits, dried fruits, jellies, jams and butter. There are but two other exhibits of butter, and only two exhibits of bread. Miss Mabel Adair of Salem exhibits a variety of loaf cakes.

In the department of needle work there is but little to be seen. The Misses Bertha Myers and Lulu Hedges have a handsome exhibit, including arrasine, plush, ribbon and chenille styles a table spread, scarf, sofa pillow, etc., being among the most noticeable. The flower designs upon these various articles are rich in color and most tastefully worked.

A collection of silk embroidery, oil paintings, lambrequins, a hand-painted fire screen and a large sea shell bearing a well executed painting of an ancient baronial castle, attracted much attention. This exhibit was the work of a class taught by Mr. Mitchell of Salem.

The only exhibit of wax work is a handsome basket of grapes, representing different varieties.

The floral garden in the rear of the pavilion is a handsome spot, and reflects great credit upon the five ladies of Salem, to whom are due all its beauties and every pleasure given to the appreciative senses of the visitors. Magnificent geraniums and fuchsias in full bloom are the most attractive, and are to be found scattered all through the garden. These ladies are Mesdames A. Smith, J. H. Bridges, C. S. Rockenfield, J. H. Haas and J. V. Taylor, all of Salem.

THE RACES.

The first race of the afternoon was the running race for all ages, mile and repeat; purse, $250. Entries for this race were Bybee's Ney Ella and the sorrel gelding Deschutes, owned by W. A. Basset of Dixie, Polk county. Deschutes is a well known horse whose sire was Napier by Norfolk and dam by Humboldt. He has won some races on the fair track in previous years, bears a good reputation for speed and endurance. Despite Ney Ella's losing the mile and a quarter dash the day before, all her admirers felt that she could have won if her owner had so desired. Consequently the little mare was a general favorite and sold two to one in the pools at all times before the race.

Ney Ella was ridden by Johnny Ford and Deschutes by Porver. The mare drew the inside position and was a little in the lead at the start. The two horses ran almost neck and neck around the track, presenting an exciting race. Ney Ella's rider had carefully husbanded her strength and came in under the wire half a length ahead. Time by quarters—31, 52, 1:25 and 1:55.

The second mile was but a repetition of the first, excepting as regards time, the mare winning the heat and race in 2:02½.

TROTTING.

The breeders' stallion stake, mile heats, best three in five, $100 entrance, $300 added, was the next race on the programme. Altamont and Dexter had been entered, but the latter horse being in Montana, his entrance fee was declared forfeited. Jay Beach drove the stallion Altamont around the track and was adjudged the race and the forfeit money, the society withdrawing its purse, according to its rules.

SPECIAL PURSE.

Horsemen and others interested in racing, not desiring that the large crowd in attendance upon the track upon such a beautiful day should go away disappointed made up a special purse of $110 for a free for all, $60 to first, $30 to second and $10 to third. The entries, all that could be obtained upon such short notice, were Altamont, Jay Beach's stallion Florence E., a mare well known in Portland and owned by Joe Buchtel, and Nellie, owned by William Clark, a southern Oregon man, who for some time past has been kept at Halle's stock farm in Washington county. Betting in the pools was all in Altamont's favor, the other two being held about even for second choice.

First Heat—The positions drawn were Florence E. first, Altamont second, and Nellie third. Altamont got the worst of the start and took third place at the quarter pole. At the half-mile there were about three lengths between each horse. At the three-quarters Altamont took second place, while Florence E had increased her lead to nearly six lengths. The finish between Florence E. and Altamont was very exciting, the stallion coming down the home stretch at a terrific gait, closing four lengths of the distance between himself and the winner, who passed under the wire in 2:40.

Second Heat—Altamont broke at the tap of the bell, and at the quarter post was about five lengths behind the other two. Florence E was again leading and kept it to the finish. The stallion crawled up on Nellie, but broke just as he was about to pass her, which compelled him to come under the wire in the third position. Time, 2:37.

If these two heats had been run to influence the pool box it did not do so, for Altamont continued the favorite, only more so. This proved that those who were doing the heaviest betting knew what they were about, as the result of the race showed.

Third Heat—Altamont broke, as usual, but at the half mile had recovered himself and passed Nellie, who also developed better speed, keeping close at his heels. For the third quarter the race was very exciting. Bets were freely made, and Altamont's friends felt their hearts sink. Florence E was still ahead as they passed the three-quarters post, and it did not seem possible that she could be beaten. But Altamont shot alongside the mare and the latter left her feet, prancing all over the track. It was almost a howl that went up from the crowd as Altamont passed under the wire, an easy winner in 2:36½, Nellie again taking second place.

In the same manner Altamont took the fourth and fifth heats and the race, in 2:38½ and 2:38 respectively. Florence E. was behind in both heats.

SUMMARY.

Nellie ... 2 2 2 2 2
Florence E. ... 1 1 3 3 3
Time—2:40, 2:37, 2:36½, 2:38½, 2:38.

BICYCLE RACING.

Between the heats of the trotting race two bicyclists entertained the crowd. The first attraction was an amateur race between Ben Taylor of Salem and Smith of Amity, distance a quarter of a mile, which was won by the former in 55 seconds. Then there was a slow race between Merrill, Hatch, Newcastle and Smith, which was won by the former. Merrill also created plenty of amusement by his representation of a dude upon the bicycle.

SHAMEFUL NEGLIGENCE.

Ryan and Johnson, who receive an extended notice at the beginning of this article, again appeared upon the track, presumably to run a race, although no announcement of any kind was made concerning the matter. The dress of Ryan, or rather his undress, was this time absolutely indecent, for he was naked, except for a little strip of cloth about his loins and between his lower limbs. The management of the fair, who own and control the race track, incurred the deserved censure of every decent person upon the grounds by not removing the man at once and having him locked up on a charge of indecent exposure. But none of the members of the society seemed to notice it, and although there were hundreds of women present, respectable wives and innocent girls, this shameless specimen of humanity was permitted to run up and down the track without hindrance. There was a shameful negligence on the part of some one which will not tend to increase the number of visitors at the exhibitions of the society.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Voting was carried on during the day for the election of officers of the society for the ensuing year with the following result:

President, J. L. Hallett; vice-presidents, T. Richmond and J. H. Burkhardt.

The following board of managers, one from each county, who will appoint a secretary and treasurer, was also elected:

Baker—J. W. Wisdom.
Benton—R. A. Bensell.
Clatsop—Captain Flavel.
Columbia—H. Fiske.

TO-DAY'S PROGRAMME.

The races set down for to-day are by all odds the best of the meeting and will undoubtedly be attended by a much larger crowd than those of yesterday. The programme is as follows:

Running—For all ages, two miles out; purse $500.

Same day—Trotting—Breeders' trotting stake for two-year olds, mile and repeat; $30 entrance, $200 added. Six-tenths to first horse, two-ninths to second and one-ninth to third.

Same day—Trotting—For 2:40 class, $[illegible] purse; $500. $350 to first, $100 to second and $50 to the third horse.

The entries for the running race so far as known, are Jim Merritt, Ney Ella, Glenabrook, Albute and Brethel. A very close race is expected.

In the 2:40 class, Sontley has entered Snowflake and Sawyer of Hillsboro, has entered Billy Reed.

There will also be a grand parade of all stock entered for premiums just after the arrival of the morning train from Portland.

OLYMPIA ITEMS.

OLYMPIA, Sept. 16.

The West Side mill will resume operations immediately.

Business somewhat dull, but better times expected before long.

The supreme court has been in session for a week, all the judges being present.

The Building and Loan Society is rapidly growing in public estimation, and will be a vast benefit in this community when properly understood.

The well known book and stationery firm of Shelton & Co. made an assignment of their entire stock on Monday to A. L. Bancroft of San Francisco.

People are anxiously waiting for the contemplated change in THE OREGONIAN type, which, when it takes place will add largely to the subscription lists.

The Burmeister brick building on the corner of Third and Main streets is growing rapidly, and will be quite an improvement to that part of town when completed.

The late rains, it is thought, have done a great deal of harm to hops and late oat crops, but to what extent is unknown. However, if the present weather continues farmers will have but little cause to complain after all.

Politics are very quiet just now, each party being seemingly anxious to know what the other side intends doing. The independent party seems to be holding its ammunition until it gets a good chance to use it with effect.

Loggers are anxiously looking for a revival of the lumber business, which has been in a rather stagnant condition for some months. It is thought by men of experience that the present dullness will not extend beyond next spring, at latest.

The public schools are crowded to excess, the accommodations for the large number of pupils to attend are being somewhat limited. A great change is noticeable in this vicinity as far as education is concerned, within the past few years, both parents and pupils seeming to take much more interest in such matters than was formerly the case.

A dastardly attempt was made on last Monday evening, about 11 o'clock, to fire the building known as the Greater Livery Stable, kept by Messrs. Littlejohn and Kirkendall. Fortunately the discovery of fire was made almost a moment after the match had been applied, and a terrible conflagration was thereby averted. The fire company arrived on the ground in [illegible] but fortunately their services were not required.

TRADE AND COMMERCE.

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 17.

Overland receipts include 10 cs lard, 10 cs canned meat, 5 cs tongue, 21 pkgs tobacco, 380 cs turpentine, 20 bls cotton bagging.

PRODUCE RECEIPTS—Past 24 hours: 13,714 ctls wheat, 1268 bbls flour, 448 ctls oats, 480 ctls bran, 390 ctls millstuff, 22,941 lbs wool, 1812 lbs hides, 72 cs eggs, 188 bxs fruit, 7 pkgs butter. Also 3,692 ctls wheat, 100 bbls flour, 44,491 lbs wool, 15 531 lbs hides from the eastern section.

FREIGHTS—The Agnes Sutherland has gone down the river to complete cargo, and the Griersdale is receiving stiffening. An inactive market is had with rates wholly nominal.

WHEAT—Foreign advices continue of an easy character, while home markets are in rather better tone. Locally the situation is without apparent change and buying is light. The quotation of $1 10 (a1 1¼ for valley is continued with many sellers willing to accept that figure. Very little of that coming from the eastern section is credited with being sold ahead, the ruling spot quotation being kept at $1 02½. This is the figure named by buyers, who have secured some at the price. As a rule more is asked by sellers.

OATS—Small business doing, last receipts being on jobbers' account. Quote 32@35c.

POTATOES—Supplies ample; request only local, and prices steady at 40@50c.

DRIED FRUITS—A large shipment was being made to-day to Victoria. Stocks are only fair, yet promise to be larger.

PROVISIONS—Packers doing little. Dealing continues to be in eastern which moves steady at full prices.

POULTRY—Chickens in large supply and late values have been shaded. Old are in small movement at $3@3 50 while young move freely at $3 50@4. Ducks and geese wanted at the moment and sales have been made at extreme prices.

EGGS—The quotation is off to 27½ cents. Stocks are quite free and arrivals are large.

HOPS—Puget Sound papers tell of damage by rains and scarcity of pickers. Hands enough cannot be had to handle the crop. A loss of one fourth of the crop is mentioned but this is doubtless far too high an estimate. Receipts here are unimportant.

NOW AND TWO YEARS AGO

The following comparison of values of five different crops of wheat on the 25th of August in each year since 1880 offers a very interesting study, and probably something may be learned from it. It is offered, with accompanying remarks, by a London correspondent of the Northwestern Miller. The value in the case of foreign wheat is per quarter c. i. f., while English wheat is per imperial quarter:

	1884.		1883.		1882.
Red winter, prompt shipment	35	7	44	0	44	6
No. 1 California	36	0	47	0	46	6
Australian, off the coast	35	6	—	—	47	6
No. 2 Calcutta, July-August shipment via canal	32	0	38	6	41	0
English wheat, average	37	0	43	8	47	10

	1881.		1880.
	s.	d.	s.	d.
Red winter, prompt shipment	54	0	42	6
No. 1 California	5[illegible]	0	41	6
Australian, off the coast	5[illegible]	0	4[illegible]	0
No. 2 Calcutta, July-August shipment via canal	45	6	41	6
English wheat, average	51	10	44	1

The best, as well as the fairest, comparison should be made with 1882. That year very much resembled the present year; the crops were everywhere above an average, and the reserve stocks in the various countries were probably no smaller than they are now. America had then a crop of 504,000,000 bus., or about the same as this year. France reaped 122,000,000 hectolitres that year, and expects only from 105,000,000 to 110,000,000 this year. The United Kingdom crop of 1882 was 10,250,000 quarters, and is considered about the same this year. Hungary estimated its crop at 30 per cent above an average in 1882, while it is this year rather below an average. Russia's crop was a full average that year, and is hardly so this year. Australia, it is true, had reaped a deficient harvest compared with this year, but India exported in the fiscal year 1882-83 as much as it is likely to do this—viz: 3,500,000 quarters. On passage to the United Kingdom there were 2,330,000 quarters on August 25, 1882, against 1,970,000 now, while the stocks in first hands in the United Kingdom were 1,800,000 quarters then, against rather over 3,000,000 now. Therefore there was, on the whole, the probability of larger supplies in 1882 than there is now, and yet prices are about 10 shillings per quarter cheaper now than at that time, and the trade is asking itself whether a further decline is not likely. Evidently the back of the trade is broken, and there is no spirit left to view the matter calmly; however, some people are beginning to think that the bottom must be somewhere near.

SHIPPING NOTES.

The State of California will be due to-morrow.

The Br bk Ryevale, well known at this port, is again loaded this way.

The bark Law has finished discharging and is receiving grain.

The Jupiter and Alpheta are both discharging, the former being well out.

The O. R. & N. Co. have purchased the old mail steamer's Coos and Costa Rica.

A board of trade inquiry into the loss of the British ship Roxburghshire was recently held in Glasgow. The vessel left the Columbia river October 7 last with 2135 tons wheat, and was estimated to have a freeboard of 1 foot 2 inches. The cost of the ship was £14,750, and after some dispute the owners stated that she was insured for £13,000 on hull and £5,000 on freight. The court held that the vessel was in good and seaworthy condition when she left Astoria, except as to her upper topsail yards; that she was not overladen; that her cargo was properly stowed and secured from shifting; [illegible] been complied with, and that the vessel, as laden had sufficient stability. The court finally decided that there was no evidence before them from which they could form any opinion why this ship was missing. The ship was built of iron in 1876 by Dobie & Co., at Glasgow, and stood in name of T. Law & Co.

A SPLENDID REMEDY.

J. W. WINDOM, Baker City, Oregon, writes: "I take pleasure in stating that I have handled WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY for the past fifteen years, and I have yet to hear the first to complain of its not giving satisfaction. It is one of the best selling remedies I have on my shelves, and I can conscientiously recommend it to my customers as a standard preparation."

C. A. PLUMMER & CO., Portland, Or., write: "During our six years' experience in the retail drug business in Albany, in this State, we noted the sale of WISTAR'S BALSAM increase from year to year, without special advertisement. We have heard many encomiums of its efficiency from our best customers, and believe the sale could be permanently and largely increased by judicious advertising. Its own intrinsic merit will, when once introduced, sustain the sale."

AFTER DINNER.

Persons who suffer from Indigestion can arrest the progress of that painful malady by the use of an after-dinner pill, so composed that it will give tone to the stomach, prevent heartburn, rouse the liver to healthful action, invigorate the kidneys, and thus, through the activity of these organs, promote the natural movement of the stomach and bowels. AYER'S PILLS are so compounded that their action, though mild, effectually produces the above results. They also, in curing Constipation, remove the cause of Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Kidney Disease, Rheumatism, and many other serious ailments.

AYER'S PILLS

contain no mineral nor poisonous substance, and do not gripe unless the bowels are irritated, and even then their influence is healing. To continue their effect in constipated or chronic cases, they need only be taken in diminishing instead of increasing doses. For seamen, and inhabitants or travelers in sparsely settled countries where physicians are not at hand, they are of inestimable value. There is hardly a sickness they will not alleviate, and in most cases cure, if taken promptly. To young girls just entering upon womanhood, and to women whose period of maternity is drawing to a close, Ayer's Pills, in moderate doses, merely sufficient to ensure regular action of the bowels, will be found of Incalculable Value.

DR. PAUL M. GRENAH

IS THE MOST SUCCESSFUL PHYSICIAN ON the Pacific coast in the treatment of all Chronic and Difficult Diseases of the Sexual Organs.

He will guarantee to cure any form of disease of the generative organs or private disease, if the patient follows his advice and treatment.

He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including disorders such as the FOLLIES OF YOUTH, such as Spermatorrhoea, or Seminal Weakness, or Loss of Perfect Vitality. Nearly two-thirds of all the chronic diseases spring either directly or indirectly from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by a majority of the Medical Profession.

Persons afflicted by any form of sexual disease or weakness often delay in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit these diseases to exist until their constitution becomes corrupted, their organization broken down, and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence. Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances. Lost manhood perfectly restored.

Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint and all diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail, if they are curable, and if not, he will tell you so.

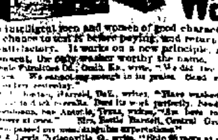

Consultation Free, and a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Enclose postage stamp for list.

Office—Nos. 132 and 134 Third street, corner of Alder, opposite Masonic Hall.

Office Hours—10 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 and 7 to 8 P. M.

All letters of professional business must be addressed to Dr. Paul M. Grenah & Co., Portland, Or.
